Your child is booked on the above course with Maximum Adventure Sports UK Ltd. One of the main aims of the company and the programme is to introduce activities and engender activities that can have lasting benefits for your child with regards to their future health and safety.

Involvement in adventure activities can provide a healthy and comparatively safe outlet for excitement and challenge that every normal young person needs to express. Moreover, the risks from adventure activities are very small when compared to the other hazards facing young people, from joy riding, and drug dependency all the way to suicide that today is one of the major causes of death to young people.

However, adventure activities themselves are not completely free from risk. Whilst the chances of serious injury are extremely remote the chance of minor injury (bruises, bumps and minor fractures) have to be seen as possible outcomes, and to much the same extent as normal active, teenage play.

We fully accept our legal and moral responsibilities in these matters but feel that you, as a normal, caring parent or guardian would wish to be fully informed about what participants may experience.
